

Marko Tomic | CTO

Chief Technology Officer

Marko is the CTO and Co-Founder of Assignar. Marko's first mission was to build a small, distributed team of engineers to re-architect the existing solution on top of the Amazon Web Services platform. Marko's long-term view has always been to scale the product and the team globally to ensure customer success and business longevity.

Marko has built a career as a customer-focused technologist, developing and architecting world-class web solutions and products in a wide range of industries, such as digital agencies, education, media, telecommunications, government, and, of course, construction.

Prior to co-founding Assignar, Marko worked for notable companies such as NetX (Acquired by Clemenger BBDO), Adcorp, Optus, Learnosity (founding team member) and Mamamia Women's Network.

Fun fact - Marko has spent about 42 days underwater as an Open Water Scuba Instructor.
